Claire is a key contributor to Computershare's Global Capital Markets group, primarily focusing on market structure analysis and advisory work, and the development of global services solutions for Computershare's clients. This has included transactions such as the Cadbury plc/Dr Pepper Snapple Group demerger and the News Corporation reincorporation. Claire also structures Computershare's depository services in the US, UK and Australia.

Claire has legal, regulatory and operational experience across three international markets – the US, the UK and Australia – and has worked on regulatory and market structure issues affecting many other markets where Computershare operates.

Claire worked for several years with the Australian Stock Exchange, managing the CHES Regulation group, then as Senior Policy Officer for ASX Trading & Clearing Regulatory Policy, managing regulatory and compliance issues. Prior to joining Computershare in 2001, Claire spent two years in Ireland, managing special projects for Davy Stockbrokers, with a major focus on delivering an internet-based trading system and multi-currency cross-border execution services.
